1. In the event of default by the Lessee, the Lessor may recover accrued unpaid lease installments, together with interest and damages.
2. Where the Lessee's default is material, then the Lessor may also require accelerated payment of the future lease instalments or may terminate the Leasing Agreement and after such termination:
 - 2.1. recover possession of the Leased Asset; and
 - 2.2. recover such damages as will place the Lessor in the position in which it would have been had the Lessee performed the Leasing Agreement in accordance with its terms, including casual damages, such as obligations, expenses or commissions incurred by delay of deliveries in transport, caring and keeping Leased Assets after the delay of the Lessee in respect of returning or depositing of the Leased Asset.
3. The Leasing Agreement may define circumstances where the default, including the postponement of payment, is to be considered material.
4. The Lessor may not execute his rights under paragraph 2 of this Article unless it has sent written notice of material default to the Lessee and the Lessee failed to rectify such default within fifteen (15) business days after receipt of such notice.

Article 22
Repossession of the Leased Asset

1. Repossession of the Leased Asset as set out in Article 21 paragraph 2.1. occurs by:
 - 1.1. judicial act;
 - 1.2. Lessor itself, if it can be done without breaching the public order; or
 - 1.3. administrative act, in agreement with paragraph 4 of this Article.
2. If Lessor proceeds with judicial act, it shall lodge a claim to the court of competent jurisdiction asking for an order, ex parte and with no prior notice to Lessee or any other person, by authorizing the Lessor or his/her authorized agent to repossess the Leased Asset and to deliver it to the lessor. This submission shall be decided upon by the court by no later than three (3) working days from the date of submitting lodge claim.

3. Within three (3) days from the repossession of Leased Asset, the Lessee may submit a motion to oppose the entire or partial repossession, by providing proofs of lacks in action under the Leasing Agreement including payments in installments and/or other proofs supporting the opposition. Afterwards, the court or any other competent body makes a decision whether a given order should be revoked or amended, based on Paragraph 2 of this Article, and determines the responsibilities of the Lessor on damages incurred by the order to repossess and deliver the Leased Asset.

4. A Lessor upon default of the Lessee may appoint a person designated by the court to obtain possession of the Leased Asset where:

4.1. the Lessor does not have the right to enter upon the site where the Leased Asset is located;

4.2. the Lessor's possession rights are interfered with by the Lessee or any other person; or

4.3. there may be a public disorder if the Lessor has tried on his own to have the repossession

5. Within fifteen (15) days after the repossession or possession of the Leased Asset from the Lessee, the Lessee may request from the Lessor the return of the Leased Asset by meeting the obligations as set in the Leasing Agreement and all the incurred expenses, fines or damages related to non-fulfillment of the Leasing Agreement and repossession of Leased Asset in order that the Lessee shall fulfill all his/her obligations under the Leasing Agreement before the time the Lessor returns the Leased Asset to the Lessee.

Article 23

The Lessee's right in case of default of the Lessor

1. In Operational Leasing Transaction, unless provided otherwise in the Leasing Agreement, the Lessee may not terminate the Leasing Agreement in case of breach of the Leasing Agreement by the Lessor, but is entitled to such other remedies as are provided by the Leasing Agreement and by law.

2. In Operational Leasing Transaction, the Lessor may terminate the Leasing Agreement in cases of material damages incurred by the Lessor, unless provided otherwise in the Leasing Agreement.

CHAPTER VI RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS OF THE SUPPLIER

Article 24
Lessee as Benefiter of Leasing Agreement

1. In Financial Leasing Transaction, benefit from obligations provided to Lessor by a Supply Agreement and all guarantees, expressed or indicated, including those of whichever third party provided to regarding or as part of the Supply Agreement, shall be extended to the Lessee as foreseen by the Leasing Agreement but in compliance with the Supply Agreement and to all safeguards and claims deriving from them.
2. Extension of benefits from the obligations of supplier and of all guarantees to the Lessee shall not:
 - 2.1. change the duties and obligations of parties in the Supply Agreement, the rights and obligations that derive from it or not; or
 - 2.2. put any barrier or responsibility on the Lessee by the Supply Agreement.
3. Any modification or cancellation of Supply Agreement by the Supplier and Lessor is valid to the Lessee also, unless prior modification or cancellation the Supplier is informed that the Lessee has entered into Leasing Agreement related to Supply Agreement.
4. If modification or cancellation between the Supplier and the Lessee occurs, the Lessor despite the obligations of the Lessor from the Lessee, is deemed to have accepted as existing the commitments which the Supplier made to Lessee as well as modified or cancelled guarantees that have existed and have been available to the Lessee prior to modification or cancellation.
5. Notwithstanding the engagement and commitment of the Supplier provided to the lessee according to this article, the Lessor holds all the rights it may have against the Supplier, which rights may derive from an agreement between the Lessee and the Supplier or by any other law.
6. Parties may not derogate from or vary the effect of the provisions of this Article.

Article 25
Amendments to the Supply Agreement

1. The Supply Agreement shall not be amended, changed between the Lessor and the Supplier without prior consent of the Lessee. If the Lessee does not consent to such amendment or change, the Lessor is deemed to have assumed the duties of the Supplier to the Lessor.
2. The parties may not derogate from or vary the effect of the provisions of this Article.

CHAPTER VII BANKRUPTCY

Article 26 The Lessor's Bankruptcy

1. When nominating an Administrator of bankruptcy on the Lessor's property, the Lessee has an option to pay the outstanding amount of leasing installments within the period of liquidation on the terms agreed with the Trustee in Bankruptcy and thus obtain the right to the Leased Asset, if the Leasing Agreement foresees transfer of title to the Lessee.
2. Unless it is proved that the Lease Agreement have been concluded not on commercially reasonable terms, the Lease Agreement can not be cancelled and remains in force for any creditor or creditors of the Lessor, who obtain title over the Leased Asset as a result of the bankruptcy or liquidation procedure.

Article 27 The Lessee's Bankruptcy

1. When nominating an Administrator of bankruptcy on the Lessee's property, the Leased Asset shall be excluded from the bankruptcy estate of the Lessee, as well as from the general obligation to creditors and shall be returned to the Lessor.
2. Apart of the provision in Paragraph 1 of this Article, the Trustee in Bankruptcy may notify the Lessor, via registered mail, within thirty (30) business days of the date of bankruptcy announcement, that the Lessee wishes to carry on with the Leasing Agreement, in which case the Leasing Agreement will remain in force, under the condition that the leasing installments are paid in accordance with the Leasing Agreement.
3. In case of liquidation of the Lessee, which is a legal entity, regardless of whether the liquidation is mandatory or voluntary, the Leased Asset may be repossessed by the Lessor, without undermining the Lessee's rights set forth in the Leasing Agreement.

CHAPTER VIII FINAL PROVISIONS

Article 28

1. The Law on Obligations applies to financial leasing transactions to which this law applies only to the extent that there is no conflict between this law and the Law on Obligations. This law shall be applied, in case of any conflict.

2. If provisions of International Treaty to which Kosovo is a party, differ from the ones of this Law, the provisions of the International Treaty shall prevail.
3. This Law shall be applicable to international lease agreements as provided in Article 5 subparagraph 3.2. of this law, if parties agree that this Law shall be governing the Leasing Agreement.
4. This Law shall supersede any provision in the applicable law that is inconsistent with it.
